Long Expected Ralston Boom Furnishes Interest Thursday—Californian Loses Forty Votes During Morning Balloting—Smith Still Steady

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 3.—After reaching the crest of his attempt to gain the presidential nomination so far last night, William Gibbs McAdoo began to decline in this afternoon's balloting as a concerted movement toward Ralston was started.

McAdoo suffered on the first ballot today Oklahoma again switched, throwing its twenty votes back to Senator Robinson of Arkansas. Shortly after noon, beginning to be noticeable on the forty-eighth ballot, the movement toward Senator Ralston was inaugurated.

It was the first time Tom Taggart, his manager, had attempted to go outside of Indiana for votes for his candidate. The Hoosier gained thirteen on the forty-eighth ballot, picked up thirteen more on the next and gained one on the fiftieth.

In the meantime neither McAdoo nor Ralston cut into the votes of Governor Smith and he held his own with 320 1-2 in the fiftieth, with the long premises effort to nominate him, still being withheld. His managers have evidently not yet decided to move in his direction, awaiting McAdoo's break. John W. Davis, who has been running third, lost a few votes today. James M. Cox of Ohio held steady with no concerted boom in his behalf.

Leaders of the rival factions came to the garden fresh from a series of conferences, the most significant of which was held in the Waldorf just before ten a.m. and was participated in by George E. Brennan of Illinois, Joseph M. Guffy of Pennsylvania, Norman E. Mack of New York and Tom Taggart of Indiana.

Taggart's participation in this gathering of anti-McAdoo leaders was the cause of much speculation. None of them would discuss the conference or its purpose as they broke up and headed for the garden but reports were current that after McAdoo had had an opportunity to show something for a change, McAdoo's managers had had his run, Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana, Taggart's candidate is to be the heir apparent with Smith to be proposed for the vice presidency.

Ralston was one of the "eligibles" named by William J. Bryan in his spectacular effort yesterday to swing the convention to one of his own choosing. The Democratic organizations in Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York would just as soon see Ralston get it as anyone if Smith is eliminated.

As the delegates assembled in the garden there were reports too that McAdoo's managers had succeeded in making some headway in Carter Glass' delegation of 24 Virginians and might pick up a few votes there in the early balloting.

At the same time, however, friends of the Virginia senator who was one of Bryan's "ineligibles," were working quietly on the Missouri delegation in his behalf. McAdoo's Missouri delegates said the delegation would stick to him "for a few more ballots anyway," before transferring their favorite elsewhere.

New York, July 3.—Deadlocked for three trying days, and 42 ballots, the Democratic national convention reached the turning point.

Before nightfall, unless all the signs are wrong, the fate of William G. McAdoo and perhaps several of his competitors will be definitely decided into the gruelling battle of the ballots in Madison Square Garden, the like of which no Democratic convention has seen in the last half century. The opening of the thirteenth session of the convention today found McAdoo engaged in a supreme effort to hold his slipping cohorts together and add to them for one final, grand assault on the nomination. If he fails, and the opinion was general that he would fail—then the disintegration of his strength is expected and it will be left to his rivals to see how close they can come to attaining the goal for which McAdoo shot and missed—two thirds of this turbulent, epochal convention.

Conferences that lasted throughout the night preceded today's session. The goal of the McAdoo managers last night and today was a majority. Once assured of this, the prospect was that the McAdoo managers would assault the two thirds rule and seek to have the convention discard it in favor of a new rule allowing a nomination by a majority. A change however, seemed more remote than the chances of McAdoo for obtaining sufficient votes to enable him to make the fight.

Developments in the last turbulent twenty-four hours, which included a dramatic effort by William Jennings Bryan to stampede the convention in McAdoo's favor, have only made McAdoo's opponents more certain than ever that his is a forlorn cause. The Bryan speech, while it turned some wavering votes into the McAdoo column and enabled him to climb to the highest point he has yet attained (500.5 votes on the 40th ballot) at the same time split the anti-McAdoo forces more closely together. They have a veto to bloc of more than 267 votes which Bryan only made more solid.

Bryan was generous to others besides McAdoo. While declaring the ex-treasurer head was "entitled" to the nomination, the commoner at the same time gave the convention the names of an even half dozen other men whose names were then in the balloting whom he considered "acceptable."

They were Robinson, Danies, Ralston, Meredith, Walsh and "Brother Charley" Bryan and in the case of

NUISANCE TAXES GO OUT MIDNIGHT ON WEDNESDAY

Columbus, July 3.—The new tax bill enacted by congress went into effect at midnight, abolishing many "nuisance" taxes.

The following levies are no longer effective:

Admission taxes, on admission charges of 50 cents or lower. Tax of 10 per cent must still be paid on theater or other amusement admissions of over 50 cents.

Telegraph and telephone message taxes of 5 cents for messages costing not over 50 cents and 10 cents for messages costing 50 cents or over.

Weapon taxes, covering hunting and bowie knives, dirks, stilettos, brass knuckles, also taxes on x-ray films and plates, candy, liveries, hunting garments, riding habits, yachts and motorboats not for trade, fishing or national defense, and pleasure boats.

Jewelry taxes, applying to musical instruments, silver plated flat table ware and other articles selling for not over $30 and watches not over $60.

Stamp taxes on drafts, checks and promissory notes, stamp taxes on sales of produce or exchange boards are reduced from 2 cents to 1 cent on each $100 or fraction. The stamp tax on playing cards is increased from 8 cents to 10 cents.

A new tax, which became effective at midnight, was a 3 per cent tax on automobile truck chassis costing over $1,000 and on truck and wagon bodies costing over $200. On other chassis and bodies and on motorcycles, a 5 per cent tax is imposed. Tractors are exempt. Taxes on tires, auto parts and accessories are reduced from 5 to 2 1/2 per cent.

Preparations are nearly completed in Washington for refunding about $16,000,000 to persons who paid their full income taxes March 15. Checks probably will be sent out about the middle of the month, paying back 20 per cent.

Burns Prove Fatal.

Zanesville, O., July 3.—Paul Gibson Swackhammer, 10, of Stover town, who was burned by a powder explosion, died of his injuries.

two particularly Ralston and Robinson, their managers simply took advantage of Bryan's endorsement to stick in the race more closely than before.

And he drove Glass, Smith, Underwood, Davis, Ritchie and Owen into a common camp in defense of their separate and at the same time mutual interests.

Within two ballots after McAdoo had reached his peak strength, riding on the crest of the Bryan wave, the signs of disintegration began to appear in his ranks.

Oklahoma caucused after the 42nd ballot and decided against any more riding with McAdoo. A majority of the twenty votes in Oklahoma was against it, although this same majority were divided on the question of whether to go to Senator Robinson, Senator Ralston or to return to their own favorite son, Senator Robert L. Owen. Owen's friends were bitterly resentful of Bryan's indirect slam at him.

Missouri too, seemed in the throes of a new decision. The Missourians were on half again, off half again McAdoo throughout yesterday and last night, and after the 42nd ballot, in which he seemed to be slipping again down the long, long trail, they began agitating for a switch back to John W. Davis or to Senator Ralston.

At the night session of the Democratic convention four ballots were taken. McAdoo shot over the 500 mark in the fortieth ballot with 505.5, but in the forty-first ballot his count was 504.9, and on the forty-second ballot he stood 503.4, with Smith 318.6 and Davis 67. This was a loss of one and a half votes for McAdoo, while Smith gained one. Davis lost three.

The convention adjourned until 10 o'clock today with the announcement of the result of the forty-second ballot.

McAdoo and Smith, both unable to make material headway, kept their relative places at the head of the list. Davis of West Virginia lost a few votes, but remained in third place, and the supporters of Ralston of Indiana became more active in presenting the qualifications of their candidate as a compromise selection.

The effect of Bryan's appearance before the convention was not immediately apparent. The McAdoo men declared the incident would stimulate a new rally in the lagging fortunes of the former treasury secretary, but the Smith supporters said Bryan had turned the trick for which they had been waiting, and had relegated the McAdoo candidacy to limbo.

Missouri and Oklahoma had been induced to come to the McAdoo column for a few ballots at least and see what the McAdoo managers could do with the advantage of their moral support.

The McAdoo partisans, eager to recover from any reaction that might be developing against them as a result of the Bryan hurricane, left no stone unturned to drive over the 500 mark toward the majority. They interrupted the announcement of the official vote of the fortieth ballot with a demonstration which was only quelled after repeated efforts.

Tom Taggart, Indiana leader, issued a statement outlining the merits of Senator Ralston of Indiana as a compromise for the Democratic presidential nomination. Taggart emphasized that the senator was a progressive and had made a good record for economy while chief executive of Indiana, and declared that the Indiana delegation held no hostility toward any other candidate. He said informally that he did not believe William Jennings Bryan's address to the convention, mentioning Ralston as an acceptable candidate, had either injured or aided the senator's chances.

When Ralston's friends urged Taggart to start a drive for him on the theory that McAdoo had been hurt by Bryan's speech, Taggart declined, and counseled waiting for another day or two if it seemed advisable.

Loans to Farmers.

Washington, July 3.—The federal intermediate credit banks have made loans aggregating $6,837,515 to the farmers of the country in the slightly less than one year since the new credit system was organized. It was announced by the federal farm loan board. Up to May 1, last, $27,697,75 of the loans had been repaid, showing that $48,943,768 of the government money is being used by the farmers to finance current crops or live stock production and marketing.

Dirigibles For the Army.

Akron, O., July 3.—Construction of six dirigibles for the army air service is to be started at once at the Goodyear plant, and the first of these is expected to be delivered for service by Dec. 1. The ships to be built are of the type developed by the Goodyear company during the war, and which were used to patrol the east for submarines. They will be used primarily for training purposes.

SMITH MANAGERS SAY HE WILL WIN ON SEVENTY FIFTH

New York, July 3.—Leaders of the campaign to make Governor Alfred E. Smith the presidential nominee of the Democratic National Convention expected to be successful only after the longest deadlock in the history of the party.

They say their lines are not wavering. Their opinion is that eventually Smith will be the victor, but they do not anticipate bringing home the bacon before the seventy-fifth ballot. The longer the deadlock continues the better they believe to be their candidate's chance for the nomination.

Governor Smith has shown no outward trace of uneasiness. Literally speaking, he did not blink an eyelash today when two of New York's delegates went over to New York's Gibbs McAdoo. He reiterated that at no time has he tried to dominate the delegation from New York or any other state, and that he thought every individual delegate should be entitled to vote as he saw fit.

In his suite at the Manhattan Club today, directly across the street from Madison Square Garden, the Governor listened to reports from the floor of the convention. He is directing his own fight. Messengers constantly kept him in touch with the floor of the convention. He expressed himself as being as confident of the outcome as he was before the convention was opened.

Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, National Committeeman, called upon the Governor. He said: "The McAdoo crowd made their dying spurt today. It was a dismal failure. We are going to nominate Al Smith even if the convention is forced to go into a third week."

George E. Brennan, of Illinois, second Mack's opinion. He told reporters to "lay your money on Smith." "Governor Smith is sure to win," he said. "He is the one man who can beat Coolidge in the East, and sooner or later he will be put over, and all factions of the party will respond loyally. He will be the candidate of a united Democracy."

Governor Smith did not listen in on the radio to the address by William Jennings Bryan. He was told the gist of the Commoner's speech, but he deferred comment.

BUS OWNERS ASK FOR RE-HEARING

Columbus, O., July 3.—The state utilities commission today has under consideration applications from sixteen bus owners at Lima who were refused permission to operate motor transportation lines in that city.

The applicants ask for rehearing of their cases. They were denied permission to operate on the ground that adequate service over their proposed route was being provided by the Lima Street Railway Company.

TWELVE MEMBERS NAMED TO BOARD OF TAX APPEALS

Washington, July 3.—Twelve members of the board of tax appeals, authorized under the new revenue law were appointed by President Coolidge. Those chosen from the general public were: Adolphus E. Graupner, San Francisco; J. S. Y. Ivins, New York city; A. E. James, New York city; John M. Sternhagen, Chicago; Samner L. Trussell, Minneapolis; John J. Marquette, Washington, D. C.; and W. C. Landon, Salina, Kan. Five were selected from the bureau of internal revenue, as follows: Charles D. Hamel, Grafton, N. D.; Jules Gilmer Korner, Jr., Winston-Salem, N. C.; Benjamin H. Littleton, Nashville, Tenn.; Charles P. Smith, Boston, Mass.; and Charles M. Trammell, Lakewood, Fla.

Only California they hold to be doubtful. Walter Thomas Mills, of the farmer-labor party of California, however, predicted the state would go to LaFollette in November. This, he thought would be possible through an expected announcement by Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, of California, that the LaFollette candidacy would be acceptable to him.

Help also is expected from such Democrats in the senate as Dill, of Washington, and Wheeler, of Montana, whom LaFollette supported in their campaigns.

The enthusiasm for LaFollette here is almost unbounded. The leaders of the conference, which has only two main things to do, endorse LaFollette, and adopt a platform which he will draft, are past the stage of predicting that the Wisconsin senator will merely throw the presidential election into the house. A leader can't be found here who won't say that LaFollette has more than an even chance to win, and that he will carry into office with him enough progressives to tie the legislative hands of both old parties in congress.

The third party will not be immediately formed here. The first effort will be to bore within the old parties by sending progressives to congress under the Republican and Democratic labels.

William H. Johnson, chairman; Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Mrs. Mabel C. Costigan, of Washington; Herbert F. Baker, gubernatorial candidate in Michigan and Senators Shipstead, farmer-labor, of Minnesota and Frazier, Republican of North Dakota, will be the chief speakers at the convention, to be held in Public Hall, which housed the Republicans.

Nearly 1,000 delegates said to represent a membership of 5,000,000 in trade unions, farmers' organizations and independent progressive political groups in thirty-two states are now expected.

Socialists attending the convention are to have a meeting of their own here Sunday when they also plan to endorse LaFollette.

Announcement Assures He Will be Candidate Named At Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 3.—The personal campaign of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin, as an independent candidate for the presidency will be fought chiefly over the radio, it was learned here today. Because of his age and the danger of impairing his health through an extended traveling and stump speaking campaign, LaFollette has informed his managers that he intends to make most of his personal appeals for votes through the instrumentality of the radio avoiding as far as possible, long speaking tours by train and auto. LaFollette's headquarters will be in Chicago.

This news, which was transmitted privately today to leaders of the conference for progressive political action which will endorse LaFollette for the presidency, settled definitely in the minds of the convention managers the question of whether the militant Wisconsin progressive would enter the race for the White House. They have been assured all along that LaFollette would be a candidate, but it was not until today that the plans for the campaign that will be carried into every state in the country were formally made known.

For the early part of the campaign LaFollette intends to remain in Washington. Later he expects to go to his home in Madison, Wis., from where he will make short journeys into neighboring states, particularly Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

As the campaign settles down in the home stretch, his managers declared that LaFollette would speak in the larger cities of the nation, going straight into the heart of the sections which political observers would believe ordinarily would swing into Republican or Democratic columns, the east and south. His leaders here confidently predicted that if the Democrats name a conservative in New York, LaFollette will be able to capture Pennsylvania and some of the so-called border states along the Mason Dixon line. One hopeful supporter even went so far as to say that LaFollette if present campaign plans are pressed vigorously enough would win Georgia, Texas, Kentucky and possibly Florida. This prediction was based upon the belief that a "reactionary" would be named by the Democrats and that some of the south would go against the Democrats because of the party's fight on the Ki Klux Klan.

In this connection it was said today that while the conference itself opening here tomorrow for a two day session does not plan to take any action on the plan, LaFollette is expected to issue a personal statement making it quite plain that he is opposed to the hooded organization.

LaFollette managers, headed by Representative John M. Nelson, Republican of Wisconsin, insurgent leader in the house, claim as already "in" practically all states west of the Mississippi river.

Only California they hold to be doubtful. Walter Thomas Mills, of the farmer-labor party of California, however, predicted the state would go to LaFollette in November. This, he thought would be possible through an expected announcement by Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, of California, that the LaFollette candidacy would be acceptable to him.

DOHENY OF OIL FAME GETS VOTE AT CONVENTION

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 3.—One vote was cast in the Democratic national convention for Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, indicted in Washington several days ago, along with H. F. Sinclair and A. B. Fall.

It was cast by E. J. Hughes, a North Dakota delegate, who has voted for Smith, while part of his delegation voted for William G. McAdoo.

The vote caused a big laugh in the convention. "I just wanted to get Doheny in line for the vice presidency," said Hughes, explaining his vote, "in case McAdoo is nominated."

M'CURRAN BROS. LOW BIDDERS ON NEW HOME SCHOOL

McCurran Brothers, Xenia contractors, were low bidders on the general contracting work for the combined school and recreational hall to be constructed at the O. S. and S. O. Home, when bids were opened at a meeting of the board of trustees Wednesday afternoon. Twelve bids were received.

The local firm entered a bid of $91,000 for the general contracting work, not including lighting, heating or plumbing.

State Architect Herbert L. Briggs, of Columbus, attended the meeting, with his plans for the building. His estimate on the cost of the structure was $125,000. With the sub-bids the work is expected to cost approximately $115,000.

The contract for the work was not let at the meeting and will be announced at a future meeting of the board of trustees, after the bids are tabulated by the architect.

The building will be a combined gymnasium with a swimming pool, auditorium and three class rooms, and will be erected on a site between the chapel and the present school buildings. Work on it will be begun soon after the contract is let.

MODISH MITZI—Poor Goofer! He Has Competition Again.

BY JAY V. JAY

Here you see Mitzi in one of the new boyish style bathing suits. It's of wool jersey and has some stunning stripes of alternating color on the top. You see the ever admiring Goofer absent-mindedly writing her name in the sand. The Goofer rides himself at the only man on the beach with Mitzi.

Mitzi and the Goofer have disappeared. Polly comes on the scene searching for Mitzi and of course knows she must be among the Deauville parasols somewhere. Notice Polly's ruffled bathing suit of green taffeta. The knickers are attached to the waist.

Second upon the scene is the nice young man who has been trailing in Mitzi's background for the last week. He sees the writing in the sand and is delighted to know that he is once more on the right road. Then he notices the slender, long silhouettes of both Polly and Mitzi.

The Goofer isn't so awfully pleased. He thought he was going to have Mitzi to himself. Poor Goofer! He should curb his sand-writing tenacious mark this nice new man for dummies. Anyway, introductions are being made, and Polly is looking, well—quite suspicious. Polly had her own!

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Should national conventions continue to be staged as popular spectacles or be conducted as solemn conclaves immune from the influences and annoyances associated with the presence of enthusiastic and disorderly aggregations of citizens who, in such circumstances, so frequently exemplify the mob spirit?

This is not an idle question. Other conventions, both Democratic and Republican, in times past have surprised and astonished the nation and the world by the turmoil and unseemliness of their conduct and procedure. But the present Democratic gathering, in this respect, unquestionably has surpassed anything of its kind in the annals of political party history.

The business of selecting a presidential candidate and the preparation of a platform of party principles should be considered a most grave and serious matter. Perhaps the majority of delegates and leaders who attend conventions realize this. They probably sincerely deplore all disregard for proper dignity, all interferences and delays caused by thronging outsiders in galleries and in the aisles of the assembly room. But precedent has permitted this sort of thing until now.

Many times Chairman Walsh has had his patience more than tried during the progress of the present meeting. He has been compelled to ask the aid of the police in the restoration of order; he has threatened to remove the convention to another city unless its proper business could proceed without mob interruption; he has had to condemn resolutely discourteous interruption of speakers by squalls, whistles, cries and jeers from spectators exhausting physical energy sorely needed in the exercise of his legitimate and proper functions as presiding officer.

This great country cannot afford to have its major parties making exhibition of nights, riot, disregard of all amenities proper to the occasions when prospective leaders of the republic are to be chosen in national assembly.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE OHIO TORNADO

Those who have never been exposed to the deadly fury of the tornado find it hard to visualize the scenes of despair and disaster in the wide track of the storm that demolished large sections of several Ohio cities, took several score lives and destroyed property valued at millions of dollars. Even the language of sympathy is silenced in the conviction of the futility of language in the presence of so great a catastrophe. But the common human impulse is promptly translated into measures of relief.

Even the horror of war gave occasion for works of mercy, offsetting man's proverbial inhumanity to man. So in the midst of the tragedy at Sandusky and Lorain there is the silver lining to the sable cloud, where deeds of heroism were wrought by men and women responding to the crucial need of the rest without thinking of themselves. Thus out of the mourning and the bereavement there proceed fresh evidences of faith, hope and charity that go to prove again the essential unselfishness of humanity and a fellowship in time of trouble that prosperity had not discovered.

HELP THE FALLEN

Admission of Germany into the International Chamber of Commerce, voted on Saturday at Paris, on the motion of a Belgian member and with the approval of the French representatives on the council, may fairly be considered an olive branch and a forerunner of an ultimate restoration of closer trade relations with Germany. The conditions, imposed, namely, Germany's acceptance of the Dawes report and of a previous resolution of the International Chamber on the subject of reparations, give the transaction a political color, but one wisely calculated to strengthen the hands of German industrialists and others who are striving to pave the way for a settlement along the lines of the Dawes report.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

All that stands between your goal
And the deeds you hope to do,
And the dreams which stir your restless soul—
Is you!

The way is rough and the way is long
And the end is hid from view,
But the one to say if you shall be strong—
Is you!

Oh, the world may smile or the world may frown
And the skies be gray or blue,
But the one who shall travel up or down—
Is you!

Though far it seems to the gleaming top
And the day brings dangers new,
The only one who can bid you stop—
Is you!

For whether you work or whether you play,
Are false to your best or true,
Rests not with your friends or foes to say—
But you!

PRICE HAS A MEANING
ONLY WHEN PURCHASE IS MADE BY AN EXPERT

A wise way to purchase anything is to depend on the judgment on an expert for value, and use your own judgment in choosing between things of equal value.

In purchasing anything many people use the price tag as a measure of value. Then they make their choice and are usually dissatisfied.

Ordinarily when anything is reduced in price, it is reduced in quality. It may look the same to the average purchaser, but he is no judge of quality. It takes an expert to judge quality in any line, whether it is investments, furniture, or houses.

Do your trading through some one you know to be an expert; then you can have them pick out things of equal value at various prices. They can explain why one thing costs more than another. Consequently you will know what you are paying for and can make your choice wisely.

THERE ISN'T GOING TO BE ANY SANE FOURTH OF JULY

1904-Twenty Years Ago-1924

There was a great game of base ball played at the Home grounds on Monday morning between the "Fats" and "Leans," resulting in a score of 27 to 27.

Dr. J. R. McCormick left last evening for Lake Geneva, Wis., where he will spend his vacation.

County Recorder M. A. Broadstone has just completed his annual report for the year ending June 30th, and has forwarded same to the Secretary of State.

The celebration of Jamestown on the Fourth attracted persons from all parts of the county and the town was thronged.

Note to Readers: Any reader of this column who sends me a stamped and self-addressed envelope will receive without charge my two multigraphed articles on "What Every Preserver Should Have" and "Eight Popular Pickles." The first article includes recipes for Apple Jelly, Plum Butter, Plum Preserve, Raspberry Jam, Cucumber Pickles and Piccali or Green Tomato Relish. The second article includes recipes for Dill Pickles, Mixed Pickles, Dixie Relish, Corn Relish, Chili Sauce, Mustard Pickles, Pepper Relish and Plain Cucumber Pickles. Please do not use a very small envelope as these two articles comprise three typewriter-size sheets of paper, which will not fold into a tiny envelope.

TO CAN CORN: Remove husks and silk from freshly picked corn (choose tender, juicy corn which has not yet reached the starch stage) and put the cob into a cheesecloth bag; lower the bag into boiling water from one to three minutes (if very young ears, one minute will do, otherwise two or three) then remove from boiling water and plunge the bag into cold water for an instant, only. Now cut corn from the cobs by first cutting just the tips of the kernels off, then removing lower part of kernels by a second cutting; this method gives a creamy consistency which is absent when the kernel is cut close to the cob with only one cutting.

IT HAS LASTED

Xenia People Must Believe Such Convincing Testimony as Mrs. Ledbetter's.

No one in Xenia who suffers backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this twice-told story of an Xenia resident. It is confirmed testimony, telling of lasting benefit from Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. It's evidence that no man or woman in Xenia can doubt.

Mrs. Lee Ledbetter, 167 Hill St., Xenia, says: "I was miserably run down and mornings my back was weak and the least exertion tired me. Doan's Pills from Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store cured me entirely."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mrs. Ledbetter added: "Doan's Pills made a permanent cure for me and I have had no occasion to use them since."

rack or thickly folded cloth in your wash-bottle canner in boiling water to cover jar.

Let water boil around jar for one hour, then remove, press down side wire, and let stand in ordinary room-temperature over night. Second day: Release side wire and boil jar in the canner exactly as on first day, removing and completely sealing at end of hour, and again letting stand overnight. Third Day: Release side wire, again boil the jar one hour in canner, but this time label and store after completely sealing and cooling. This method is safer than the One Period Cold Pack Method, for corn.

ALL WOMEN WHO WORK

Should Know how this Worker was Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Zahl, N. Dakota.—"I was nervous and weak and was not regular. I also had pains frequently. I was sickly for seven years and finally had a nervous breakdown following an operation. I am a dressmaker and milliner, and a lady I work for told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am taking it and it has made me well and able to do my work again. I have even helped take care of a sick neighbor recently, so you can see how fit I am. I highly praise your medicine and you may use my letter as you see fit. I hope it will help some other woman."—Mrs. OLE NORDLEIN, Box 23, Zahl, North Dakota.

Over 121,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent. of these replies answer "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women taking this medicine for ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it. For sale by all druggists.

NERVE REST

How quickly the body loses its spring and zest and romping robustness after it has been whipped and whipped beyond its normal capacity to do.

It is the same with the nerves which form such a marvelous network throughout the body for its protection, as well as health.

If you keep your nerves up all the time and fall to give them their required rest, they too will revolt and then grow weak and inefficient.

We may be no older nor younger than our arteries, but we surely are no more efficient than our nerves.

Nerves have to have sleep. You have to put them to bed and humor them, feed them, and pay a great deal of attention to them, if you are to forget that you have them while they work and back you up in all of your great ordeals.

I have seen mothers mistreat their children, punish them for the smallest offences, until the children grew irritable and cross and unhappy.

That is what many do to their nerves. They keep slapping them, and saying unkind things to them until they, too, lose their patience and act abnormally.

Abuse the finest piece of machinery and it won't do its work right.

Keep your nerves rested. Give them the soothing influence of restful people and beautiful things, and cultivate a passion for the loveliness of the out-of-doors.

There is nothing so restful to my nerves as the beauties of nature. I can look at a wonderfully formed tree for hours and feel its medicine being distributed throughout my entire being.

If you rule your nerves you will never need any other ruler, for you will rule yourself—which is greater than ruling a nation.

XENIA EXPECTED TO SPEND FOURTH OF JULY QUIETLY

From all indications Xenia will experience a quiet Fourth of July this year.

No special program has been provided for that day other than the usual observance in the way of picnics and local celebrations.

The kiddies, of course will have a "hang-up" time, as always, as can be seen from the fact that the opening guns of the younger generation were fired almost a week ago.

Kil Kare Park will have a special program in the way of fireworks and dancing in the afternoon and evening, besides the usual privileges of boating and swimming.

WILLIS DECLARES CONVENTION WILL MAKE G. O. P. VOTES

Columbus, July 3.—Addressing the Ohio Republican Women's club here, Senator Frank B. Willis said the Democratic national convention is making votes for the Republican party. He held the Democratic league of nations proposal the "most absurd, incomprehensible, indefinite and indefensible" plank he had ever heard. Willis condemned the attitude of the Democrats in declaring that the Republicans had no foreign policy. "If we haven't a foreign policy," he said, "then Washington and Jefferson had none. But we Republicans have kept faith and have kept out of entangling foreign alliances."

Willis said Cox should have the Democratic presidential nomination. "Cox always has kept faith with Democratic principles," he said, "while the rest of them have been chasing around after false gods. If they were consistent, they would nominate Cox, but they won't."

STIRBLING AND GREB FIGHT OFF

Michigan City, Ind., July 3.—Young Stirbling and Harry Greb, whose Independence Day bout was postponed yesterday, may get together within two weeks, if arrangements of the promoters and representatives of the principals, go well at a meeting today.

Though the prevalence of smallpox in adjacent states and the danger incident to entertaining a large number of visitors was named by Frank Parker, financial backer as reason for the postponement, wise ones too nodded knowingly and spoke of the light advance sale of seats. This was admitted by those close to the box office where the till was still short of funds necessary to assure Greb and Stirbling $15,000 each without figuring any spending money for the promoters.

CALL FOR NATIONAL ADD STATE BANKS

Washington, July 3.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks as of close of business on June 30.

Columbus, O., July 3.—State Banking Superintendent H. E. Scott today issued a call for a report on the condition of state and private banks as of June 30.

MEXICO DEFAULTS ON DEBT PLAN

New York, July 3.—President Obregon of Mexico has announced the temporary suspension of Mexico's debt agreement with the international committee of bankers in a cable to his financial agent here. Placing most of the blame on his former finance minister, Adolfo de la Huerta, for misrepresentation in arranging the loan, Obregon goes into lengthy detail for the government's reason in failing to pay on June 30 the interest due on its recognized debt of $700,000,000. He gave assurance the government expected to be able to pay up all by the end of this year.

REPORT DECLARES MAN IS KILLED

Cincinnati, July 3.—According to information received here from Lebanon, Va., Ford Honaker, companion of Wesley Belcher in the revolver fight with officers, which preceded the shooting to death here of Patrolman William Bond, was killed by police officers in the Virginia town. Honaker was killed when resisting arrest at the instance of the Cincinnati police, who sought him on an indictment charging "assault to kill."

Belcher, whose mother lives at Parkville, Ky., is now serving a life sentence for the murder of Bond, having been convicted of first degree murder with recommendation of mercy. The defense in his trial claimed that not Belcher, but Honaker, had shot and killed Bond.

Shanghai, July 3.—A Stewart MacLaren, British round the world flyer, winging his way from west to east, arrived here today. His next lap will take him to Japan.

To Consider Church Merger.
Chattanooga, Tenn., July 3.—The special general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church South convened here to decide upon the question of unifying with the northern branch. Rumors spread that a federal court injunction would be asked to break up the meeting. Such a move would indefinitely delay action on the reuniting of the church.

XENIA GOLFERS EASILY DEFEAT MIDDLETOWN CLUB

There was something of a runaway in the golf match played Wednesday between Xenia and Middletown, in which the local club won its fourth consecutive victory over the home course by the comfortable margin of 57 to 13, Nassua count.

A. H. Dyer of Xenia played the eighteen holes in a spectacular 77, going out in 41 and making the return journey in 36, two above par.

Middletown brought over twenty-six golfers with the expectation of gaining an easy victory, but must have misconstrued the ability of the locals, for few of the visitors were able to tally points in any of the thirteen foursomes.

Perfect weather prevailed for the match which was enjoyed by all. A dinner was served the local players and their guests following the game. C. E. Arbogast, had charge of the tournament.

SPEAKER OF HOUSE ADDRESSES DINNER OF HOME EX-PUPILS

H. H. Griswold, of Columbus, speaker of the House of Representatives, was the principal speaker at the banquet of the Ex-Pupils' Association of the O. S. and S. O. Home, Wednesday evening. Covers were laid for the several hundred former pupils of the institution, officers and guests of the association.

The banquet began at 6 o'clock and followed memorial services held by the association in the chapel. Music was furnished during the banquet by Craft's Orchestra. Dancing was enjoyed until 8:30 o'clock.

The reunion closes Thursday night after an interesting three-day program. Thursday morning a concert was given by the Home Band, followed by a business session of the association officers, and dinner at 12 o'clock.

Sports and a concert were features of the afternoon program, preceding the supper hour. The grand ball will be held Thursday night, when revelry will mark the close of the forty-fourth annual reunion.

REMODELLING WORK ON STEMMERY WILL REQUIRE TWO MONTHS

The remodeling work being done by McCurran Bros., contractors, at the Xenia Stemmyery has been handicapped to some extent by the removal of the stemmyery proper over to the vacant warehouse, and as a result progress has been slightly slower than was first expected.

A cement floor has been laid in the warehouse, thus adding working facilities, but the conditions are such as to handicap the stemmers to some extent.

A cement floor has also been laid in the sweating room and maple floors in both the second and third stories of the main building. When everything available has been transferred to the warehouse, work will proceed more smoothly.

It is estimated that two months will be consumed in the remodeling and the work will not be completed before the first of September at the earliest.

CLEVELAND ALUM NUS DELIVERS DEDICATORY ADDRESS BEFORE EX-PUPILS AT O. S. & S. O. HOME

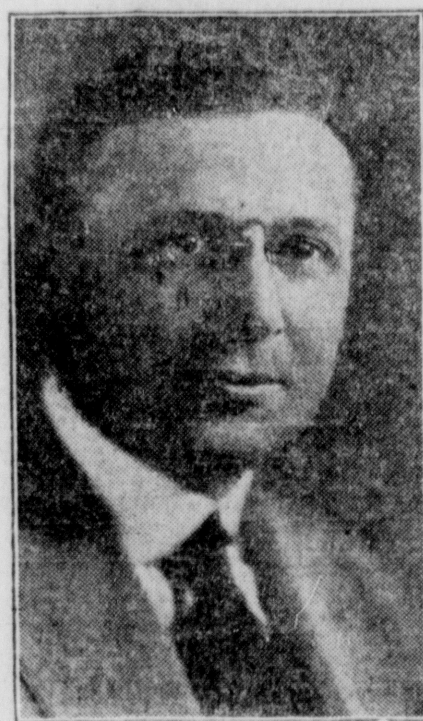

"The existence of the O. S. and S. O. Home is evidence that war is a destructive job and should be stopped in the future," declared George B. Harris, of Cleveland, former pupil of the Home and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Ohio, at the exercises dedicating the Ex-Pupils' Memorial Library at the annual reunion Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Harris outlined the advantages and possibilities of legislation by Congress for the drafting of money as well as men in preparation for war. The drafting of money, he said, would take out the profiteering side of war and would meet with large disfavor in the end would result in war's defeat.

He firmly recommended America's entrance into the World Court and urged the co-operation of America in international treaties signed by all nations, declaring aggressive war upon international crime, to be outlawed.

Mr. Harris greeted the large body of G. A. R. members present at the ceremonies and the Ex-Pupils' Association of which he is a member.

He is the first alumnus of the Ohio Wesleyan University to seek the office of governor of Ohio on the Republican ticket since Rutherford B. Hayes. He is making a personal campaign of the state in the interest of his candidacy and addressed a Chamber of Com-

Newport, Ky., chairman of the building committee.

C. C. Henrie, of Xenia, member of the building committee, made a brief talk outlining the financial situation of the association. With $11,179 on hand to start the construction of the Memorial Library, the association is about $4100 short of the amount required to finish the building. The structure is finished to the floors and plastering but more funds must be raised to complete it.

Fred W. Benjamin, of Cleveland, ex-pupil of the Home, and representative of large rug and carpet house, donated a beautiful Royal Wilton rug, measuring 11 by 15 feet, for the library.

Members of the G. A. R. present for the ceremonies including John McCloy, Fort Hayes, Columbus, O., junior vice commander of the G. A. R.; the Rev. Edmund Burdall, department commander; M. O. Messers, Warren, O., senior vice-commander; Jacob Seerest, Columbus, chief of staff; Mr. Irwin, Clermont, Co., Dan Wilder, Columbus, O., past department commander; William Matthews, Columbus, assistant adjutant and the Rev. C. W. Blodgett, Cincinnati, past department commander.

Four hundred and fifty-one ex-pupils of the Home were registered Wednesday, the second day of the reunion. A number of old pupils who were present added interest to the annual gathering.

Five pupils of the institution when it was located on East Main Street, in Xenia, in the '60's were present at the gathering. They were: Mrs. Ella Gloyd Cook, Zion City, Ill., Thomas Shellenbarger, Troy, O., Mrs. Elizabeth Stivers Grabel, Fremont, O., Walter T. Kemp, South Charleston, O., and A. W. Hudson, Dayton. Walter T. Kemp of South Charleston was one of the first wards of the state and was cared for at the National Military Home, Dayton before the Xenia Home was started and later brought to the East Main Street institution before it was moved to the present site and taken over by the state.

Two ex-pupils, now residing in Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Lethbridge, Roosa, were in attendance at the reunion.

Howard Courtney, of New Orleans, La., who has appeared in the "movies" with "Bill" Farnum, was also back for the annual reunion. He left the institution as a shoemaker, learning the trade in the classes of the Home.

Mrs. Alice Thacker Nelson, of Greenville, O., who has never missed a reunion since she was discharged from the Home was absent for the first time this year, owing to the illness of her husband.

Ed. W. Hughes, Columbus, parliamentarian of the General Assembly, who has been present at the reunions for a number of years, attended the ceremonies. He recalled many interesting incidents and remembered old faces in connection with the Home. The institution was started in Xenia, December 1, 1869, by the G. A. R., after the Civil War, when many orphans were left fatherless and motherless as a result of the war. Greene County later donated a tract of land south of Xenia for the institution buildings, and the day the deed was turned over to the officials of the Home, August 25, 1870, the institution moved to the new site. New buildings have constantly been added until the Home is one of the finest institutions in the country.

"I remember when we met to form the Ex-Pupils' Association," said Mr. Hughes. "We got into an awful argument about what we should call ourselves, and considered 'Graduates of the Home.' John M. Malloy, who later gained prominence in newspaper circles, objected to that name strenuously and we decided on the present name."

DAYTON FLYERS TO TEST NEW DEVICE ON NON-STOP FLIGHT

Dayton, July 3—Lieutenant W. H. Brookley and Navigation Expert Mac Short, both of McCook Field, began a non-stop, cross-country test flight from Dayton to Omaha, a distance of 680 miles, leaving Dayton at 1 o'clock this morning.

The flight is being made presumably to test out a special log recently developed at McCook Field. The log, besides recording the trip, also records the total air miles, total air hours, and the exact air speed of the plane. Thus by consulting the log, the pilot may easily ascertain, by checking the time, speed and direction, where his craft is at any time.

The ship used is a special night navigation craft designed by the engineering division of McCook Field, and is also equipped with emergency lights on the wings and other devices. Considerable time is expected to be spent checking up on the initial performance of the craft.

PROGRESS

For nearly 50 years this Association has served the public and of the many millions of dollars entrusted to it in that time, NOT A DOLLAR HAS BEEN LOST for any one of the thousands of people who have entrusted it with their savings. It has gone through panic and flood and all of the vicissitudes attending the war and reconstruction, without the slightest diminution of its security and with a reputation for integrity and dependability against which no one with a knowledge of the facts and a proper regard for his own word will raise his voice.

The splendid rate of growth of our deposits—ABOUT 1 1/2 MILLION DOLLARS PER YEAR, has been maintained in the past six months, and if we take into account the repayment of a considerable sum obtained temporarily last year to accommodate borrowers and repaid this year, the actual increase in the first half of this year is NEARLY ELEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS. When it is remembered that this has been done here in Dayton where competition is probably closer than anywhere else in the State, this appears to be no mean accomplishment.

Our total receipts for 6 months were over $7,000,000

—an average of over $50,000 per day. From some source there was paid in over our counters, $1,000 EVERY TEN MINUTES for the 8 hours our offices were open every business day, and we loaned on first mortgages in the half year an average of $300,000 per month. We have no real estate on hand and the amount of overdue interest is far below the average carried by financial institutions of our kind. These two facts point unerringly to the quality of our mortgages. We believe that those outstanding facts indicate the full confidence of the people and we accept this splendid patronage of the public as a command for our best efforts in using every means and safeguard to maintain that degree of security to which our depositors are entitled. The present high standards of this Association CAN BE and WILL BE maintained.

Upon this unbroken record of half a century, with our pledge to conservatively manage the affairs of this Company, and keep it dependable under all conditions, we solicit your inquiry and patronage. All points considered, we believe that we offer the best investment that is open to you today.

F. M. COMPTON
President and General Manager.

Signs Of The Times

Along the business streets of any town the signs on the different stores tell you instantly the kind of a store you are passing. "Gentlemen's Furnishings," "Dry Goods," "Drugs," "Candy and Ice Cream"-these and similar signs keep you from going into a bakery for a cake of soap.

Then, too, these stores, have show windows and counters which actually display their wares. You can tell instantly where to get an electric washer or a lock washer-a bolt of cloth or a bolt for a door.

Going through the A-B-C Classified Section of the Evening Gazette and Morning Republican is just the same!

This section has signs at the top of each department to tell you what class of offers you are passing-and under each sign you will see an actual display of individual offers which are grouped together.

RESERVES PLAY THREE GAMES OVER WEEK END - OTHER EVENTS

By L. J. WONES

The Xenia Reserves will be kept busy this week end as Manager Ewing has booked a trio of games for his cohorts. On July 4 the locals will play a double header with the Olt Products team of Dayton. The Dayton team has lost but one game to date out of the five played and will no doubt give the locals pretty stiff opposition.

Cyphers and Stockman will take care of the hurling while Randall or Greene will catch. The locals are hoping to get back in the win column as they have suffered three defeats in a row. This week they have been working out hard and word from their manager indicates they are in tip top shape for the twin bill.

The locals' hitting is still a trifle low the hitting for the last three games played is just .190 which is a trifle low. It was not the hitting that really lost last Sunday's game. It was the failure of the outfielders to play in and not so deep. At least eight pop-ups that should have been caught dropped for fair hits. With this ragged support Cyphers could not be expected to win.

At present Mike Leachy, the veteran, is leading the team in hitting. Leachy has an average of .438. He has been at bat sixteen times, scored three runs and made seven hits. "Granny" Milburn is running him a close second with an average of .417. Milburn has obtained ten bingles, out of twenty-four trips to the plate.

On Sunday July 6 the Reserves will take on the sturdy Fayette County All Stars of Washington C. H. This team has been making baseball history around that section and the Chambliss tribe will have to step fast in order to cope with the Court House nine. Besides the double header at Washington park on the fourth, there will be several other events between games

STATUE FOR BUFFALO BILL

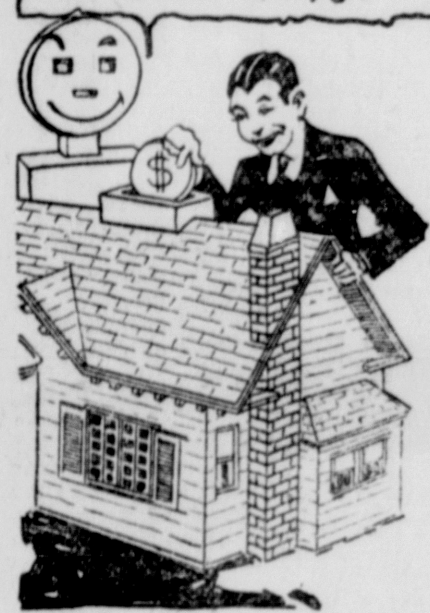

BUFFALO BILL STATUE, JANE CODY GARLOW (center)

Cody, Wyo., on July 4 honors Colonel William F. Cody, better known the world over as Buffalo Bill, Indian fighter and army scout. This huge equestrian statue of the late plainsman, 12 feet high, is the work of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, sculptress wife of New York City's multi-millionaire sportsman, who is shown at its base with Albert Ross, architect, and Ricardo Nerielli, who cast her model. The statue, erected by the Buffalo Bill American Association at the Cody, Wyo., entrance to the Yellowstone National Park, will be unveiled by Miss Jane Cody Garlow, of Cody, Buffalo Bill's granddaughter, on July 4.

FARM PROGRESS

RURAL OPINION OF
DANCING CHANGES
SURVEY DISCLOSES

Seeking to find out what farming people think of all the talk about the need of rural recreation, students of country life at the Ohio State University discover, among other things, that opposition to dancing, long all but unanimous in many rural localities, appears to be dying down.

Canvass of 100 farming families in a southern hill country showed only about half of them definitely against the dance. More precisely, 52 per cent of the people questioned said it was sinful, while 19 per cent guessed it was all right, and 29 per cent were all for it.

Sixty-eight per cent said the open country stands in need of no more play. Some said there is too much frivolity already, with so much work to be done.

Asked why life on the farm, and especially for young ones, seems so often all work and no play, few had an answer. Less than 15 advanced definite suggestions, about equally divided between bad roads, lack of time, and the breaking up of the small communities by good roads, the automobiles and tendency to consolidate schools, churches and the centers of business at the larger towns.

P. G. Beck, who made the survey, found one family where even croquet was considered sinful. The head of this house refused to help pay the pastor's salary as long as he had on his lawn.

POULTRY CLUB ON VISIT TO FARM

The World's Champion Poultry Club of Xenia Twp., enjoyed a trip Wednesday to the Northup Poultry farm, at Yellow Springs, where interesting talks on the work were enjoyed, followed by a ball game.

In the afternoon the club members went to the home of the president, Miss Louise Hutchison, where the time was spent with music, games and a program consisting of a piano duet by the Misses Esther and Lois Bradley and a piano solo by Miss Hutchison.

Record books and exhibiting were the topics of the afternoon. County Agent Ford S. Prince talked to the club members. Nine members and six visitors enjoyed the affair. Delicious refreshments were served.

KEEP MILK COOL

Columbus, O., July 3. Special—The taste and smell method of selecting cream for churning purpose in the cream buying stations is passed, according to a statement issued today by the Ohio Dairy Products association.

Off flavors develop when cream is warm and butter manufacturers are urging that it be kept cool from the time of production to the time of delivery. Fresh air, however, must be permitted to circulate through it. On this account, they say, cream should not be kept in the cellar.

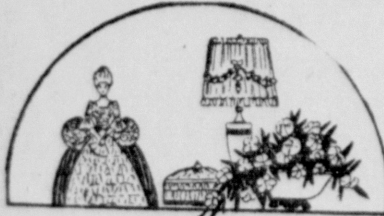

The best plan, creamery men say, is to place it in a receptacle in the water trough between the well and the stock-tank. In this way it is exposed to the fresh air and at the same time may be kept cool by the flow of water around it.

According to butter manufacturers, they have done all they can do to improve the quality of butter produced in Ohio. The co-operation of the farmers is necessary, they assert, if the finest quality of butter is to be produced and if competition with Denmark, Argentina and New Zealand is to be met successfully.

LOVE-OR FAME?

by
VIOLET DARE
Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit PERSIS GRANT and try to break into the movies. She meets LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity man, and after a quarrel with Persis, goes to a girls' club with SYLVIA STEARNS and lives there. Through French she meets JOHN SEWARD, a famous star, and is engaged as his leading lady in an independent production that he is making.

XXI—"I LOVE YOU!"

IT WAS gorgeous when we got to the Cape; we stayed in a tiny little town, and before we did any work at all we spent one long, glorious day out on the rocks at the ocean's edge, finding just the right place and rehearsing what we were to do. Mr. Seward went over every bit of my part with me, and truly the way he'd worked it out was wonderful.

VIOLET DARE

Then the second day we began to work. Mrs. Phipps was in one or two scenes, but the others—ever so many of them—were between just Seward and me. He and Mr. Haynes thought it best to take a lot of extra poses, dozen more than they could possibly use, and then they'd cut out all but the very best ones, of course.

We had done all of them and were finishing the last few, the third day we were up there, when the thing happened that bowled me over completely. It's rather hard for me to tell it, because it was so very intimate and personal—yet, after all, you who read this story of part of my life will never know me, and having told so much, I might as well tell the rest.

At the very end of the picture, John Seward was to take me in his arms and kiss me. He'd done the same thing earlier in the picture, but he'd just faked the kiss, and that was all. But that afternoon, when the air was like wine, and the sun and wind and dashing waves seemed to have got right into my blood, he swept me up in his arms, held me close to him an instant, and then kissed me on the lips again and again.

Mrs. Phipps wasn't there, and somehow the film caught in the camera at the very end, so that the camera man had to give it his attention. I was glad of that. I know that my face must have been blazing. I heard Mr. Haynes say, "Rather hot stuff, John!" as John Seward let me go, but I rushed away down a little path in the rocks; we'd planned to leave that evening, and I'd told them that I had to pack, so when I thought about it afterward I realized that Mr. Haynes would think that was why I'd hurried away. I didn't go back to the hotel, though—I didn't care whether I ever packed my clothes and went back to New York or not. I could only think of one thing—the way John Seward had kissed me. And I didn't want to think of that.

There was a little nook in the rocks, off by itself, where you could sit and look straight out to sea; I clambered up to that and just sat very still, trying to get hold of myself, but somehow I couldn't. I found myself crying—crying hard, too, though I didn't exactly know why. And then somebody scrambled up the rocks, and I felt John Seward's hand on mine and heard him say: "Don't cry, dear—didn't you know that I loved you?"

Tomorrow—My First Proposal.
